The grand jury also indicted a Rock Hill man on charges of impersonating a CIA agent and a Secret Service agent.

David Earl Inman, age unknown, was charged with telling people he was a Secret Service agent May 19. When questioned by the Secret Service the next day, Inman allegedly claimed to be with the CIA.

McMaster said Inman, who faces up to six years in prison and up to $2,000 in fines if convicted, is not employed by the government.
